

EMCO is considered by many the premier contract blending and packaging provider in the United States. We specialize in the filling of liquids with a focus on flammable and corrosive products, including isocyanates and solvents. EMCO is able to leverage the power of its combined customer base, which includes several Fortune 500 companies, to provide you with the most efficient packaging technology.

By providing a turnkey solution, EMCO is able to offer added value to our customers. We will procure the chemicals and packaging materials, blend and package your product, insure the quality of the product, and arrange to have it picked up for delivery to you or directly to your customer. All you need to do is place one purchase order with us. We'll do the rest; making your job easy.

In 2002, EMCO's Packaging Division received ISO 9001 certification to the 2000 standard. EMCO continues to grow based on its philosophy of providing exceptional quality and service at competitive pricing. Let us put our expertise to work for you. Give us a chance. We'll earn your business.
